

Dead Bug

Patient is lying on their back with arms straight into the air towards the ceiling. Hips and knees are both bent to 90°. Core activation is established and coordinated with breathing. Patient then straightens one limb at a time and improves to contra-lateral limb reaches. Patient can also rotate to each side without spinal rotation to emphasize abdominal oblique chains.

